Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If the period for reply specified above is less than thirty (30) days, a reply within the statutory minimum of thirty (30) days will be considered timely.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

DETAILED ACTION

Drawings

1. This application, filed under former 37 CFR 1.60, lacks formal drawings. The informal drawings filed in this application are acceptable for examination purposes. When the application is allowed, applicant will be required to submit new formal drawings. In unusual circumstances, the formal drawings from the abandoned parent application may be transferred by the grant of a petition under 37 CFR 1.182.

Specification

2. The title of the invention is not descriptive. A new title is required that is clearly indicative of the invention to which the claims are directed.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

4. Claims 1 - 6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Safai, US 6,715,003.

In regard to claim 1, Safai, US 6,715,003, discloses a digital camera comprising:

an input unit (see figure 2, element 108) for inputting image data (see column 6, lines 49-54);

a first storing unit (see figure 2, elements 208, 210, and 212) for storing the image data in a nonvolatile recording medium in a predetermined file format (see column 5, lines 56 to column 6, line 5);

a display unit (see figure 2, element 108) for displaying the image data stored in the nonvolatile recording medium (see column 6, lines 41-44);

a dedicated interface unit (see figure 10) for accepting input or edit of a preset data regarding the image data by one operation when the image data stored in the nonvolatile recording medium is displayed on the display unit (see column 27, lines 7-29); and a second storing unit (see figure 2, elements 108, 219, 210 and 212) for storing the preset data with the image data in the nonvolatile recording medium in a predetermined file format (It is inherent the print number data is stored associated with the correct image in the memory in a predetermined file format, in order for the image data and print information to be sent for development and printing).

In regard to claim 2, Safai, US 6,715,003, discloses the digital camera according to claim 1, wherein the preset data is data for setting number of printing the image data displayed on the display unit (see column 27, lines 15-17).

In regard to claim 3, Safai, US 6,715,003, discloses the digital still camera according to claim 2, wherein the dedicated interface unit increments the number of printing the image data displayed on the display unit for every operation (see column 27, lines 19-23).

In regard to claim 4, Safai, US 6,715,003, discloses the digital camera according to claim 1, wherein the dedicated interface unit includes a push button switch (see figure 4, elements 1009, cancel, back, and next and column 27, lines 19-23).

In regard to claim 5, Safai, US 6,715,003, discloses the digital camera according to claim 4, wherein the push button switch is provided on the left with respect to the display unit (see figure 4, element Cancel: The touch screen button Cancel is located on the left side of the display unit).

In regard to claim 6, Safai, US 6,715,003, discloses the digital camera according to claim 1 further comprising a memory unit for storing a copy of the preset data stored in the nonvolatile recording medium at least during a period for which said dedicated interface unit can accept the input or edit of the preset data (see column 7, lines 14-19: It is inherent the CPU has memory registers to store a copy of the preset data for processing and for updating data values when new values are input).

Conclusion

5. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

US 6,750,979, discloses a camera with the print number entered through a multi-function button.

US 6,317,156, discloses a camera with a number of prints button

Art Unit: 2615

US 6,724,502, discloses a camera wherein the number of prints may be designated.
